a complaint with the Proctor's office or to any ULAB official, including a faculty advisor, other faculty members, admin/staff members, or the Student Affairs Office. Any formal complaint must be immediately forwarded to the Proctor's Office with the consent of the aggrieved person.

All formal complaints must be written and the complainant must submit his/her name, ID and signature. The Proctor's Office will not pursue any verbal or anonymous complaints for Disciplinary Action.

Disciplinary Procedures

The following procedures are to be followed in dealing with the complaints/ offences/ cases:

1. Charges & Hearing: Upon referral by Proctor's Office, the Disciplinary Committee shall hear all violations of the Code that have been brought to the notice of the Chairperson. It shall inform the accused student of the charges against her/him well in advance of the hearing to afford reasonable time to prepare a defence. The Student Affairs Office will attend all hearings as an agent on behalf of the student(s) and will make recommendations to the Disciplinary Committee. The Disciplinary Committee shall aim at finding the truth and shall take evidence for that purpose. Evidence not having direct bearing on the charges shall not be admitted. The Disciplinary Committee shall arrive at clear determination whether the student is guilty or not.
2. Referral to Sexual Harassment Committee: The Proctor's Office will refer issues of Sexual Harassment (widely known as "Eve Teasing") to the Sexual Harassment Committee, which will investigate and report their findings to the Disciplinary Committee. For further information, please refer to the Sexual Harassment Policy in the Appendix.
3. Private Hearing: The enquiry shall be held in private unless the accused student desires, in writing, to an open enquiry. The Disciplinary Committee may refuse any open enquiry in consideration of the sensitive nature of the information to be revealed about a witness, or otherwise that it might affect the right to privacy of the witness or the accused. The Chairperson or any member of the Disciplinary Committee may examine the accused or ask questions.
4. Evidence: The Disciplinary Committee may reject the evidence of any witness on the ground of the witness being an interested person or doubtful witness. The Disciplinary Committee shall not admit testimony of unidentified outside witnesses. When the accused student does not attend the enquiry, the Committee shall take all available evidence in support of the charges before arriving at its conclusion.

In exceptional cases, the Disciplinary Committee may recommend term suspension or dismissal.

APPENDICES

APPENDIX 1: ULAB SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

The University of Liberal Arts Bangladesh (ULAB) strives to provide a place of work and study free of sexual harassment. There is a zero tolerance approach to sexual harassment of any kind. Whenever a case of sexual harassment is reported or observed, ULAB will take all measures possible to stop the harassment with immediate effect, and take the necessary disciplinary and legal action against the offender.

Sexual harassment breaches the core values of ULAB and is a violation of human and workers' rights. Anyone may be subject to this behavior irrespective of age, sex, marital status, education or profession. Therefore, this policy aims to protect every individual at ULAB irrespective of religion, caste, sex, sexual orientation, and ethnic group.

This policy is designed to:

- Provide a mechanism for the protection of persons suffering from sexual harassment;
- Create awareness of ULAB's zero tolerance to sexual harassment;
- Define procedures for making a complaint, investigation, and disciplinary measures;
- Ensure implementation of the policy and related code of conduct.

What is sexual harassment?

Sexual harassment is defined as inappropriate, unwanted and unwelcome conduct or behavior of a sexual nature perceived as harassment by the receiver, which has an adverse effect on the dignity of women and men both inside and, in certain circumstances, outside the University. Any unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and any unseemly sexual conduct could also be construed as sexual harassment.

Sexual harassment occurs when any behavior creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment, even if offence is not intended. Sometimes what is perceived as sexual harassment by one person may not seem so to another person. The defining features, however, are that the behavior is offensive to and unwanted by the recipient and would be regarded as sexual harassment by any reasonable person.

Sexual harassment is any direct or indirect form of the following behaviors:

- Unwanted physical contact or conduct;
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature;
- Demeaning, insulting, intimidating or sexually aggressive comments;
- Threats or implication that refusal of sexual advances will have an adverse effect on academic or employment conditions;
- Demeaning comments or psychological pressure for refusing sexual advances;
- Any demand or request to establish a sexual relationship;
- Sending sexually explicit or implicit letters, emails, SMS, images, video, social media, etc.;
- Displaying pornographic materials or indecent pictures or drawing;
- Taking any form of photographs or video recording for blackmailing or defaming someone;
- Spreading rumors about sexual issues to humiliate or disgrace someone socially;
- Discriminating anyone on grounds of gender or sexual-orientation.

APPENDIX 3: UNDERSTANDING AND AVOIDING PLAGIARISM

By: Daniel Sabet

Plagiarism is often defined as, “The act of passing off as one’s own the ideas or writings of another.” [emphasis added]¹ Unfortunately, plagiarism is common in Bangladeshi institutions of higher learning. Not only are students “stealing” the ideas and words of others, but perhaps more importantly, they are failing to develop their own ideas and improve their own writing abilities.

1. What is plagiarism?

Consider the following original text taken from: Shariful Islam. 2011. “Steps taken not to follow through.” The Daily Star: April 19.

At least 10 steps taken by the government in the last two and a half years to improve the capital's traffic situation and road safety had fizzled out within a few days. The measures came to nothing because they were ill-conceived in the first place. The slackness of the implementing agencies too did not help things either, experts observe. The same people who follow traffic rules in Dhaka cantonment area do the opposite elsewhere in the city. It is because the cantonment authorities strictly enforce the rules while traffic police take little action against the lawbreakers for fear of backlash from influential people or for bribe, point out the experts.

Students asked to write a paper on the traffic situation in Dhaka might be tempted to simply copy and paste such statements into their papers. This is the clearest example of plagiarism; however, many students believe that if they cite the source and alter the wording of the text they will have avoided plagiarism. This is incorrect. The following paragraph is also an example of plagiarism.

Over the last few days, at least 10 steps taken by the government in the last two and a half years to improve the capital's traffic situation and road safety have fizzled out. Because they were poorly conceived, the measures came to little. Experts observe that the slackness of the implementing agencies has not helped things either. Why do the same people who follow traffic rules in Dhaka cantonment area do the opposite elsewhere in the city? The reason is because the cantonment authorities strictly enforce the rules while traffic police in the rest of the city take little action against the lawbreakers for fear of backlash from influential people or for bribe, point out the experts (Islam 2011).

By adding the citation, the student writer is now giving credit to the original author for the ideas contained in the paragraph, but the student writer is still misappropriating the original author’s words. The solution to this problem is to “paraphrase,” or re-write the author’s ideas in the student’s own words. The following would be an acceptable paraphrase:

According to Shariful Islam (2011), a number of recent governmental initiatives designed to reduce Dhaka’s traffic problems have not been successfully implemented. Much of the problem appears to be one of enforcement. Islam (2011) argues that this is evident when we compare the far more orderly traffic situation in the military cantonment with the chaos found in the rest of the city.

Here the writer has both paraphrased and cited the original work. Another option would be to “quote” the original author. It would, however, be inappropriate to simply place the original paragraph in quotation marks. Quotes should be used selectively and are best used when paraphrasing is not an option or to provide support to a student writer’s argument. The following would be an acceptable use of quotes.

A number of recent governmental initiatives designed to reduce Dhaka's traffic problems have not been successfully implemented (Islam 2011). There are many reasons why these measures failed to reduce traffic congestion. First, in many cases the policies were poorly designed. As Islam (2011) argues, "The measures came to nothing because they were ill-conceived in the first place."

2. The Honor Pledge

This term, freshers signed an Honor Pledge committing themselves to academic integrity. By itself, such a pledge risks being mere words; however, if taken seriously by faculty, it can be an important tool to address problems of plagiarism and academic misconduct. The text is as follows:

Honor pledge²

In pursuit of the high ideals and rigorous standards of academic life, I _____ commit myself to be honest in every academic endeavor, to conduct myself honorably, and to not engage in cheating, plagiarism, or the use of false data. I understand the meaning of this pledge and I recognize that failing to uphold the pledge will result in a failing grade.

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Definitions

- Cheating is defined as: "The use or attempted use of unauthorized materials, information, study aids, or unauthorized collaboration on in-class examinations, take-home examinations, or other academic exercises."
- Plagiarism is defined as: "The act of passing off as one's own the ideas or writings of another."
- False data are "data that have been fabricated, altered or contrived in such a way as to be deliberately misleading."

3. ULAB policy

The student handbook states the following:

Cheating, presentation of somebody else's work as own, preparing work to be used for some body's works, knowingly furnishing false information about academic matters to an university official are an act of academic dishonesty.

In the case of academic dishonesty, the faculty member or the Chairperson, if the faculty member refers the case to him, shall adjudicate the matter in an informal hearing of the student. If the student accepts responsibility, failing grade (F) may be assigned for the assignment, exam, quiz, etc., or course for which or in connection with which violation occurred. If the student does not accept responsibility for the violation, the case should be referred with a written complaint to the Committee [Disciplinary Committee]. The faculty member may also directly make the written complaint to the Chairperson of the Committee. The latter may impose other sanctions in addition to the Failing Grade (F).³
